Bring Emerging Leaders Into Your Club

New leaders are always emerging. They live in your community. They are eager to contribute. Younger professionals could make great Rotary members, but to bring them into our clubs, we first have to understand them. This is essential for Rotary.

Few organizations span generations and professions and build personal connections the way that Rotary does. We blend tradition with innovation and use trust and respect to close the generation gap. Learn More

Nancy Taylor Ask Bonny Scott 10 Questions

1. Why did you join Rotary and what does it mean to you?

I just joined Rotary in April and have enjoyed my short experience so far. I got to work at the water table for Falls2Falls and it was fun! I loved seeing a couple of people that I know running the races.

2. What are your favorite pizza toppings?

Supreme with LOTS of veggies! Peppers (bell and jalapeno), onion, tomatoes, mushrooms, garlic, spinach, butternut squash but not so much on summer squash.

3. Blue Lakes or side streets?

Either is fine with me.

4. Your dream dinner party would include (dead or alive):

A murder mystery dinner party (with only a fake murder please!)

5. What advice would you give to the world right now?

Love yourself first! When we can find kindness and compassion for the crap in our lives, we will more easily find kindness and compassion for others.

6. Three things that are always in your refrigerator...

butter, salad dressing, and Worcestershire sauce.

7. Would you rather read a book or exercise?

Listen to a book on audio

8. I would like to be better at...

making changes on my website.

9. My favorite restaurant in Twin is _____ and why?

Currently it's Milner's Gate. I've only been there once but it was incredible!

10. Tell us a bit about your family and what's your favorite thing to do as a family?

I am married to a terrific guy, Michael, birthed 4 children and raised 6. We are a diverse group with lots of opinions and ideas about life and the world!

We enjoy getting together, eating yummy food and maybe play a game, tell stories or watch a movie.
